What is the Microsoft Learn Student Ambassadors Program?

Offers onboarded students the opportunity to

- solve real-world problems with like-minded peers
- establish themselves as mentors and leaders in their community
- amplify their impact.

It combines online communities, training and certifications, and practical challenges to help them develop the technical skills and emotional intelligence that they need to succeed. They also find opportunities to make meaningful progress on the socially significant issues that they're passionate about.

Applying to the program

Microsoft Learn Student Ambassadors epitomize Microsoft's mission to empower every person and every organization on the planet to achieve more. They are:

- Agents of change driven by their passion, community spirit, quest for knowledge, and the desire for impact
- Socially conscious and inclusive community builders
- Committed to solving problems and making a difference for diverse groups
- Curious and driven to learn and share technical knowledge and skills with their peers

Applications are always open and new Student Ambassadors are enrolled into the program each quarter.
